WELL SUSTAINED

Of many hundreds, of thousands of cures forms a well sustained basis for every claim put forth by the makers of DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY as a remedy for many of the troublesome affections which afflict mankind; yet it is not extolled as a "cure-all" by any means. No extravagant promises are flaunted before the public to arouse false hopes in the afflicted. Your neighbors probably know of some of its many cures; ask them.

Through strengthening and arousing the stomach, liver and bowels into vigorous action, digestion is promoted, whereby the blood is enriched and purified, disease-producing bacteria destroyed and expelled from the body, and thus a long list of skin, scrofulous and kindred affections are overcome and sound, vigorous health established.

The "Discovery" contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs, and has its every ingredient printed on its wrappers. This OPEN PUBLICITY places it in a class distinct from the ordinary secret nostrums with which it has no relationship. Physicians, therefore, do not hesitate to prescribe it in bad cases of indigestion, torpid liver or biliousness and in skin and blood affections. People of intelligence and keen discernment employ it. The "Discovery" is a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal roots of great curative potency, and can in no case do harm to either child or adult. The aged find it a great invigorator.

You can learn more about this time proven and popular "Discovery" from the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, a newly revised, up-to-date edition of which is now offered, in cloth covers, post-paid, for 31 cents in one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. A FORMER PATIENT

Mr. Gates, a Boston real estate broker, and Miss Luella M. Brackett, a nurse, who first met in the City Hospital, Woonsocket, R. I., five years ago, were married last night at Waltham. It was 1905 that Gates, seriously ill of a fever, was taken to the hospital, and Miss Brackett then, in the second year of her hospital training, was assigned to "special" duty. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the bride's parents' home, 100 Llewellyn Street, No. 29 Welling Street, Waltham, by the Rev. Francis Webster, rector of Christ Episcopal Church.

Will Test Law

Manicure girls and there are about 500 of them—most of them at No. 50 Washington street to form an organization and to see what their cause will be a result of the law just passed which compels them to be leprosy.

The law of health is now required to issue licenses to all operators and proprietors of manicure parlors, massage parlors, and hair salons. Heavy penalties are provided for any employee or proprietor failing to take out a license.

The manicure girls are all gathered over the new law, and tonight tonight are forming an organization, which will be in charge of the law and will test the law.

PAPKE PICKED TO WIN SULLIVAN BATTLE

LONDON, June 8.—All England seems to have gone right mad over the battle between Billy Papke and Jim Sullivan. The English middleweight champion and holder of the London title, Sullivan, has been making a slight favorite, although many of the sporting fraternity are waiting until the battle opens and the men are in the ring.

The contest will be staged at the Palladium and is slated as a battle for the world's middleweight title. Eugene Corbi has been selected as the referee and will receive $5,000 for his and will lose $5,000.

Sullivan is not very well known outside of England but his reputation here is the best. He is considered the best middleweight fighter in England and has produced some of the days of Charlie Mitchell and Jack Burke.

Eccentric Prize Fighter.
Mixing play with pugilism, Sullivan is the most eccentric prize fighter in the ring. He prize ring to-day.

The winner of the London battle will be the most famous of the old adage, "champion's next to goldmine," slightly. He has secured the most quality of prize money by a liberal application of soap and water, but he has the second prize money and put into the prize money.

A big, rugged second round Irishman, without an ounce of superfluous flesh on his body, Sullivan is a real prize fighter of the person that the "pug."

APPS WAIT TO SELL PITCHERS

CLEVELAND, June 8.—It became known today, despite denial of the team management, that together with "Cy" Young the owners of the Naps have asked waiting on Fred Falmington and Art Sledge. Young is the only one likely to be cut loose. Falmington and Sledge will likely figure in trades if they are added to another club.

There is little chance that any of the other seven American League clubs will put in a claim for Young, because he is a high-salaries pitcher and his usefulness cannot be rated as certain. It is drawing the same salary as when he was a big pitcher and it is unlikely that he would sign with another club at a smaller figure. He is well-versed and is playing only because he likes the game.

Falmington has been hit since the first week of the season, but two games he worked he showed an old-time ability, except for a bad inning in one game. He was not on edge then. Sledge has not come up to expectation.

PITCHERS TOO SCARCE
TO TRADE FOR DONLIN

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8.—Mike Donlin, former captain and outfielder of the Cardinals, released by the National Commission, will not become a pitcher, according to Manager Branch Rickey. Rickey announced he had declined a proposition that would have traded his former teammate for the St. Louis club. Branch Rickey has not given him all on the bigger.

APPS WAIT TO SELL PITCHERS

CLEVELAND, June 8.—It became known today, despite denial of the team management, that together with "Cy" Young the owners of the Naps have asked waiting on Fred Falmington and Art Sledge. Young is the only one likely to be cut loose. Falmington and Sledge will likely figure in trades if they are added to another club.

There is little chance that any of the other seven American League clubs will put in a claim for Young, because he is a high-salaries pitcher and his usefulness cannot be rated as certain. It is drawing the same salary as when he was a big pitcher and it is unlikely that he would sign with another club at a smaller figure. He is well-versed and is playing only because he likes the game.

Falmington has been hit since the first week of the season, but two games he worked he showed an old-time ability, except for a bad inning in one game. He was not on edge then. Sledge has not come up to expectation.

PITCHERS TOO SCARCE
TO TRADE FOR DONLIN

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8.—Mike Donlin, former captain and outfielder of the Cardinals, released by the National Commission, will not become a pitcher, according to Manager Branch Rickey. Rickey announced he had declined a proposition that would have traded his former teammate for the St. Louis club. Branch Rickey has not given him all on the bigger.

Desperate Desmond

Desmond and his wife were alone in the room when the door opened and a man came in. He was a stranger to Desmond, but he was not a stranger to the woman. She had seen him before, and she had seen him in a way that made her heart beat fast. She had seen him in a way that made her heart beat fast. She had seen him in a way that made her heart beat fast.

Here's our old friend, Desmond Jones, the famous actor, in a scene from the picture. He is in a room, and he is looking at a woman. He is looking at her with a look that says, 'I know you.' He is looking at her with a look that says, 'I know you.'

Each of the scenes in the picture is a masterpiece of acting. The actors are in perfect harmony with each other. The scenes are so well acted that you can almost feel the action. The scenes are so well acted that you can almost feel the action.

But it looks as if they will be too late to save Desmond. The villain has tied her to a bedpost, and she is now in a dangerous position. The villain has tied her to a bedpost, and she is now in a dangerous position.

Now Comes the Cut in the Workman's Wages

You May Be Quite Sure the Burden of Any Supreme Court Order Diminishing Profits or Increasing Expense WILL BE LAID ON THE BACKS OF SMALL PEOPLE EVENTUALLY.

Copyright, 1911, by the American Journal Company

Did you ever see a nervous little boy, anxiously looking about while two of his little playmates were getting a good spanking?

The boy who hears the painful cry and the cruel slap, and who thinks that his turn may come next, tries to look like a very good little boy, indeed. He smooths his hair, straightens his tie, takes on a sweet and gentle look, and hopes that the teacher, instead of giving HIM a spanking, will say, "What a good little boy Robbie is."

In this particular case "Robbie" is the Steel Trust. The Steel Trust is a naughty little boy who has seen a spanking—mild, it is true—administered to the Oil and Tobacco Trusts. The Steel Trust is to come next, and have you noticed how very good the Steel Trust has been?

Did you notice the cut in prices the other day, the sudden violent, boisterous and well-advertised "competition"? All hands had been selling steel at the identical prices in the United States. If you wanted a ton of rails or a million tons you had to pay $28 a ton.

If you wanted anything else made of iron it was the same thing. Everybody paid the same price, everybody charged the same price, and if nobody bought it didn't make any difference.

There was the most beautiful harmony among the steel men, and no competition.

Suddenly in Congress they begin investigating the Steel Trust. In the Supreme Court, they order the Standard Oil to reorganize, and they tell the Tobacco Trust that it is naughty and must do better.

What happens in the Steel Trust?

That bad little boy begins dusting his clothes, washing his little hands and making himself as respectable as possible. One company cuts prices, then another, and then the gigantic United States Steel Company, biggest of all, begins to cut prices, too.

Bustily they cut each other, ostentatiously they compete, and, although they don't say it, their actions say as plainly as words to the Supreme Court, "Aren't we really good? Don't you see how we compete? No conspiracy in restraint of trade here, reasonable or unreasonable. We're good little boys, competing with each other as hard as we know how. So please don't punish us."

So much for what seems to be a very happy accidental outburst of steel competition, or an intelligent plan to take the wind from the sails of those that ARE GETTING READY to accuse the steel makers of combining, conspiring and keeping up prices.

These are busy days for the trust owners and managers. They are delighted to find that there is nothing so very serious after all the matter with them. They haven't got cancer, nothing that ever ends fatally. They have simply been unreasonable, and so they must be a little better, change their clothes and "act competitive."

Among all the arranging and planning and arguing by great lawyers one thing stands out plainly, and please do not for a moment forget it.

The little people will pay the bill.

If the Oil Trust finds that it is more expensive to manage the oil business of the country through twenty corporations instead of one, you will find that oil, gasoline and the other products of petroleum will cost more in proportion.

If the Tobacco Trust finds—as it probably will—that the order of the Supreme Court simply means that they must spend more money on management, on "overhead" expenses, they will spend that money immediately, AND THEY WILL MAKE THE SMOKER AND CHEWER AND THE CIGARETTE AMATEUR PAY THE BILL.

The Steel Trust, as we tell you, has shown signs of being a good little boy by cutting prices. And without a moment's delay or hesitation comes news of reduced wages. There is no suggestion that the profits or the holdings of those that have the hundreds of millions of water stock shall be interfered with. None of that.

If the prices must be cut, and profits cut, then the loss must be put on the back of labor.

Already, for the so-called independent steel companies, there is announced a reduction of 6 per cent. That is just a little feeler, to start the thing.

Whatever happens, not organized capital, not the intelligence that rules industry, but the lack of intelligence that buys and works and foots the bills, will pay as usual.

If the law says that the consumer must pay less, then the workman will get less—and it comes to about the same thing in the end so far as the community is concerned.

If the law says that one big economical organization must be split up into twenty, which will cost more, the consumers will pay more.

Be sure, whatever happens, that the people—who will pay the bill and the others that make up the ninety millions—will pay the bill. You will continue to pay, as long as you accept formulas and empty words and empty laws in place of facts.

You have got to regulate your wages and regulate your prices by law, arrange a fair deal for the man who owns, for the brains that manage, for the man who works, for the man who buys—then you will have something to go on, not before.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

SAVE OUR PARKS

Editor AMERICAN: Under no circumstances should we allow street railway cars to pass through the "Gowanus." Our parks were created for the people as a place for recreation.

One successful means another, well our park system, considered one of the best in the country, will become not a recreation place for the people, but a materialistic back for further encroachments. Save our parks.

WAS HENRY NEWMAN.

WE ARE HERE TO LEARN.

Editor AMERICAN: In an editorial you ask your readers the old but ever interesting question: "What are we here for?" And to it I answer that we are here to learn, to acquire knowledge, as far as possible to get acquainted with the laws of nature, and, in far as we can, harmonize our lives with these laws. As this can be done only through the powers of the mind, then our mental progress should be the aim of all. Upon to in the end give up true spirituality. Individually and collectively, ignorance is the basis of all our troubles—we don't understand. If we did understand, our troubles would be at an end—the sufferer would be cured, the hungry would be fed, the naked would be clothed and miserable poverty would have been driven from the earth. Because of our ignorance, cruelty, greed and selfishness would have been driven from the hearts of men and to their stead love and justice would reign.

An Important Traction Measure; It Should Be Scrutinized Carefully

The sub-committee of the Committee on Street Railways has drafted a bill which provides for EXTENDING the present lease of the West End Street Railway to the Boston Elevated for a period of fifty years, gives to the stockholders of the West End one-half per cent. increase in their dividends and gives to the Elevated a new lease of the subways for a variable period of not less than forty-two years and not more than fifty years.

The bill also provides for the CONSTRUCTION by the City of Boston of a subway to Dorchester and a subway under Boylston street and the extension of the East Boston Tunnel, together with the eventual abolition of its unjust tolls in the East Boston Tunnel.

The bill drafted by the sub-committee provides for the construction of a new artery of travel to Dorchester, whose open areas have not yet been invaded by the brick block and the brick sidewalk, whose single houses still have the sun on all sides and whose unoccupied ground grows healthy children even better than it grows grass.

As our population increases, our residences are pushed farther and farther from our places of work and as the distance increases, the time required to come and to go is a substantial increase of our hours of labor.

The bill reported by the committee provides for the construction of a new artery of travel by Dorchester, whose open areas have not yet been invaded by the brick block and the brick sidewalk, whose single houses still have the sun on all sides and whose unoccupied ground grows healthy children even better than it grows grass.

A tunnel into this district will give the bread winner all the advantages of a residence in the city and his family and himself all the advantages of suburban life. It will help more than Dorchester, for those who live in the reaches beyond will have their travel shortened as much as the resident of Dorchester.

What is true of Dorchester, is also true of those who will be served by the Boylston street tunnel and all those who will be able to use the East Boston tunnel with greater convenience.

When we have made Boston a better city in which to live and do business, we have laid the foundation upon which can be confidently built a GREATER CITY.

The energetic spirit who goes elsewhere to make his fortune, but finds that there is no place like Boston in which to live; the Bostonian who visits the sister city and finds less comfort there; the stranger who comes here on occasional business and finds Boston easier to move about in, will contribute to the increase of the size and prosperity of the city.

Nothing can exceed the importance of developing the best system of transportation in Boston and the importance of the bill to be offered the Legislature is that it provides for TWO NEW SUBWAYS, a great extension of our system.

The best features of the bill should be embodied into a law, but important as these features, there are some things connected with them in the bill which ought to be LOPPED OFF. However much we need to bring the open stretches of the country nearer the heart of the city by improving our methods of transportation, yet we must not pay a price that is too HIGH for these advantages; it should involve no unnecessary surrender of public rights.

It may safely be assumed that the Railroad Committee will report precisely what the Elevated is willing to give and all that the Elevated intends to insist upon. But everything which the Elevated wants is NOT necessarily against the public interests and the bill ought to be fairly viewed without respect to its parentage. Yet, too great an eagerness for subways ought not to hurry us into a too great CONCESSION of other public interests.

The Sunday American's Special Commissioner to Ireland Sends Message of Cheer.

Here is one sentence from one of the letters written from Ireland by C. O'Connell Galvin, the Sunday AMERICAN's special commissioner, which will appear in next Sunday's AMERICAN:

"Twenty years after Ireland has won back her National Parliament, Ireland will be, in proportion to her size, the most prosperous and happy country to live in on this side of the Atlantic ocean."

That is one of the many gratifying pieces of news that the next instalment of Mr. Galvin's letters contains. He bases his conclusions on what he has seen with his own eyes in automobile tours through the Emerald Isle. The day of the "Deserted Village," Mr. Galvin says, is rapidly passing away in Ireland.

Mr. Galvin accompanied Joseph Devlin, M.P., and other members of Parliament, to an inspiring meeting in the interest of the Irish people at Boyle. It was there that he chatted with an aged priest, who sent a message to his people in this country that every one who was born on Irish soil will want to read.

It was when he was leaving the Boyle meeting that Mr. Galvin was led to exclaim:

"Why do young people emigrate from Ireland?"

Before leaving London Mr. Galvin saw the King and Queen. He talks about that, also, in next Sunday's AMERICAN. His letters are filled with good things written in such a way that they may be understood on this side of the Atlantic by any reader of a newspaper.
